CATHCART SCORNS DEMAND TO WITHDRAW FLEET IS DELAYED BY HEAVY STORM

Cathcart Will Stay On Republican Ticket

The attempt to force John Cathcart off the Republican ticket has failed. His underhand methods the Advertiser has tried to induce some of the prominent party leaders to kick Cathcart out, as was done to Kaea, but Cathcart will stay put.

The entire matter is enveloped in much mystery, the leaders declining to give out anything at present, while Cathcart says that he is bound to secrecy in the matter, and that he can say nothing until he has been released. He did say enough, however, to show that the attempts to force him out had utterly failed.

"I am certainly going to stay on the ticket," said Cathcart. "I shall go on the stand soon."

While the official sources are closed, enough was learned from outside sources to show in general what the Advertiser plot, in which A. S. Humphreys appears to be an active factor, consists of. These facts also explain the veiled allusion made in the Advertiser this morning as follows:

"Today the leaders of the party will confer with Mr. Cathcart on the subject. He will be asked to decide between party harmony and party discord; between victory for Republican policies and his personal pride. Upon his answer will depend things of the utmost party and personal moment."

A leading factor in the case is Goo Wan Hoy, who it is understood makes

More Life In G.O.P. Campaign

New life will be injected into the Republican campaign after today. The leaders have not been quite satisfied with the manner in which things have been going, and although there has been no lack of success, they intend to work things up to the highest pitch. For this reason it has been decided to place Solomon Kalepou, a veteran campaigner and a power in the Fifth District, in charge of the actual running of the campaign, such as meetings, statistics, etc. He will stay at headquarters from morning till night, ready to answer all questions and to take up all the details of the campaign as they come up. He will also take charge of such runners as may be employed. The party has succeeded in getting together enough subscriptions from private sources to be a little more liberal in its expenditures than it has been heretofore, and as a

WILDER SUSTAINS AUTO ORDINANCE

The automobile ordinance has been sustained by a decision of the Supreme Court this morning in the appeal of G. E. Schaefer from the District Court. Judge Andrade found Schaefer guilty of "severing" in his machine, and he thereupon carried the case to the Supreme Court on the ground that the local automobile ordinance is void as being contrary to the 5th and 14th amendments of the Constitution.

The opinion of the Supreme Court, written by Justice Wilder, confines itself in the main to a discussion of the constitutionality of the Act, and the judgment of the lower court is affirmed. It is a well-known fact that auto drivers in this city are prone to speed their machines at a rate of speed dangerous to the pedestrian.

The syllabus of the opinion is as follows:

Counties—constitutionality of automobile ordinance. Ordinance 5 of the County of Oahu, relating to the registration, identification, use and operation of motor cars, is not contrary to the 5th or 14th amendments of the Constitution.

Colburn Files Petition; Says She Is Not Heir At Law

John F. Colburn has filed a petition in the Circuit Court asking that the contest of Abigail K. Kawanakoa of the will of her late husband be stricken from the records, on the ground that nowhere in the records does it appear that she is an heir at law of Prince David nor is she entitled under the law to any portion of the estate of the late prince.

Notice is given that a hearing of the petition of John F. Colburn will be held before Judge Lindsay on Monday, October 19.

Kaea Makes Charges

Applauded and cheered by the noon hour political crowd, George Kaea, who was nominated by the Republican convention and later bounced out by the County Committee, appeared on the soap box today and addressed the crowd.

His voice was rather feverish, but he did his best to explain his position as he stood in the community.

He stated that the Republican party was alright, but the men behind it were not good. "These three men, Atkinson, Lane and Chillingworth, are running the party," said Kaea. He admitted that he was a gambler once, but now he was reformed and was conducting an independent business. "Chillingworth," said he, "also gambled with me and this was witnessed by many people."

He asked the voters to give their support for him on election day because he was one of their kind.

STORM DELAYS ATLANTIC FLEET

TOKIO, Japan, Oct. 16.—The American Fleet was not reported today. The weather is very stormy and it is believed the Fleet stood off to ride out the heavy weather at sea.

It appears from this that an error occurred in the Associated Press afternoon cable yesterday to the effect that the Fleet had been greeted by Japanese warships.

Florence Scott Jumped From Ferry

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Oct. 16.—Florence Scott of Honolulu attempted suicide today by jumping from a ferryboat as it was crossing the bay. Her act was caused by illness.

The only Florence Scott given in the directory is Florence J. Scott, Christian Scientist, Elite Building. Miss Scott is known to be in Oakland, having gone to the Coast in the last Alameda. She is a sister of Mr. Scott of Hilo.

Fifteen Killed; Loss A Million

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 16.—Fire on the docks of the Calumet river did a million dollars' worth of damage today.

Storm Delays Fleet; Other Vessels Late

A storm at sea is the cause for a delay of one day in the arrival here of the Second Division of the Pacific Fleet, and presumably of other shipping which was due early this morning and failed to show up. The cruisers will arrive tomorrow instead of this morning, as expected, and the China and Marama, both of which should have been off port early this morning, are also late.

The news of the storm came to the West Virginia by wireless, the message stating that a delay of a day was caused. It is presumed that trouble was had with the tow in rough weather.

Conditions here have for some time indicated that bad weather prevailed at sea, and the Aorangi, which arrived this morning, had squalls to encounter, with heavy trades, though she escaped the storm.

The China, which is one of the fast and prompt boats of the Pacific Mail fleet, is full due and over. The delay in the arrival of the Marama is no more than might be accounted for under ordinary circumstances.

This morning the cruisers Colorado, South Dakota, and Pennsylvania moved out into the stream, to allow space for the docking of the California, Tennessee, and Washington when they arrive tomorrow. All the coaling of those vessels in port is now through, the men coming ashore as soon as the tidying ship process is over, possibly this evening or afternoon, from most of the cruisers. The West Virginia and the Maryland will remain at the Alakea wharf.
